

PRIVACY POLICY

We, the Findhorn Consultancy Service take the trust of our clients seriously. We would like you to know that we ensure that our email lists are not shared with a third party. In this Privacy Policy we will outline in a bit more detail how we make use of the data provided to us.

When someone visits www.findhornconsultancy.co.uk we use a third-party service, Google Analytics, to collect standard internet log information and details of visitor behaviour patterns. We do this to find out things such as the number of visitors to the various parts of the site. This information is only processed in a way which does not identify anyone. We do not make, and do not allow Google to make, any attempt to find out the identities of those visiting our website.

While on the site you will be asked for none of your personal data, except for your email address if you decide to use the contact form. Personal data can be collected during email discussions, but only in order to create a relationship with you. All of this data will only be accessible to the Findhorn Consultancy Service.

You are entitled to view, amend, or delete the personal information that we hold. Email your request to our administration support, Liz Egan at admin@findhornconsultancy.com.
